The Witch who wanted to be happy

A wicked witch who has everything but happiness chances on a happy little elf. She sees the elf being really happy, twisting balloons for the children, and decides that the key to happiness lies in the balloon bag. Scheming to get the bag, she even promises the elf that she will make the elf tall! The elf, wanting to be tall so that more people can see her, gets onto a pair of stilts and can't get down. Santa decides to intervene and teaches the witch that the meaning of happiness lies in herself, not in things, and the elf also learns that being tall is not everything.
